If I were a pirate...

A large, irregular, torn-edge shape that occupies the upper half of the page. It is designed for a child to draw a pirate ship or a scene related to the theme. The edges are jagged and uneven, giving it the appearance of a piece of old parchment or a torn piece of paper.Five horizontal lines that span the width of the page, located below the large torn-edge shape. They are intended for a child to write their response to the prompt 'If I were a pirate...'. The lines are evenly spaced and extend across the width of the page.
