

We went to the forest school and found our own y branches and learnt to weave. We worked together to help each other. There was some great team work and the children surprised themselves with their abilities to weave!

