

Postcard from my teacher

Dear Silver Birch,

It was lovely to hear from some of you and read your Viking diary. Eating your cow, Hippo, for breakfast was hilarious! I like the sound of the GLT team... what a great idea. I wonder if the rest of year 4 can guess what it stands for. I was very excited to hear about a new kitten. From my experience of kittens, it is much more fun for to scratch the furniture and the lovely humans who look after you than a boring old scratch post!!

I hope you all survived last week's heatwave. I had some very hot and bothered animals. Twinkle took up residence upstairs where it was slightly cooler and insisted her water was brought to her whilst she lay on the stairs near the fan! Truffles dug a nice hole in the garden and lay in it as it was nice and cool. I had hoped the heat might calm Otis, but unfortunately it didn't. His favourite new game is Animal Crossing and he likes to lie next to Molly playing it. I think he is hoping to appear on it himself! I have been in school again this week with year 6. It is very strange as we are in our classroom so every time I walk in I expect to see you all there! It's nice though as the little cardboard people we made for the Founders day service are hanging up so they are nice reminders of you all.

Look after yourselves and will speak soon. Love Mrs Mason xx
