

Postcard from my teacher

Dear Oak,

It is another beautiful sunny April morning here in Egham which means I can sit in my garden once I have painted another wall of my bedroom!

Miss Green talking about decorating and ordering paint inspired me to decorate as well. Luckily, I had a tin of paint that I could use to start me off and although moving the furniture around has been a bit tricky, I am very pleased with the results. Mrs. Akien has been advising me on wardrobes that I could get from Ikea, but I don't think they would fit in my little Mini!

I enjoyed my virtual party with my old university friends last week, sadly the Arctic explorer was not there. Maybe he will be at this week's party tonight. I have enjoyed more virtual coffee catch ups with other friends which has been great as I normally don't see some of them for months. Did the Easter Bunny visit you? He visited here and left some chocolate bunnies in the garden for Tom to find (thankfully before the cat, Lottie, found them).

I am looking forward to hearing about what you have all been doing.

Love from Mrs Phillips
