

Postcard from my teacher

Dear Oak,

Hi hope you are well. I was really busy last week, I was able to find some flour, so I able to do some baking. I made some biscuits, as some of you might know my dad is from Malta, when I was a child we used to go to Malta for our holidays, my favourite time would be Easter. My nana would bake special biscuits called figolli, we would eat these at Easter, I was able to find a recipe on the internet. I made about 15 big biscuits, they are yummy! I gave some to my mum and dad, I left them on their door step last week.

In other news, I am doing really well with my reading, I have read a few more. In January I will ways set myself a challenge, this year's challenge is to read 300 books. In my last postcard I had read 120 books, as of this week my total is now 148 books.

Bye for now, keep smiling,

Mrs Anstee
