

Postcard from my teacher

Dear Oak,

What have you all learnt this week? I feel I have learnt at least three things:

1. Lottie the cat (although lazy) just wants to be near one of us. So, if I am in the garden, gardening or just reading my book, she will make sure she is close by.

2. There is a clever way to fold/wind up earphone leads so that they are not twisted when you use them the next time! The twisted leads have been driving me nuts for years. So that is something very useful I need to teach you (unless you are lucky enough to have wireless earphones/headphones).

3. The Copper Horse loop run from Bishopsgate in the Great Park involves too many hills! And hills mean I go even slower than normal when running.

I have enjoyed seeing some work sent in via the learning2@datchetstmarys.co.uk website. I have even heard my own teaching voice coming back at me from one of the class in a teaching video they prepared. I do love finding out what you have been up to. Keep the postcards coming in! Love from Mrs Phillips
