

Postcard from my teacher

Hi Willow

So this week Ollie was very happy as his golf course opened in Ascot. He cleaned all his golf clubs, got his golf bag packed and already played twice. He was very excited to be back on the golf course. I started painting my fence this week, I have changed the colour from brown to green. I decided I needed some colour in my garden, and you all know green is my favourite colour! It was so lovely seeing some of you out on your walk, while I was on my bike. Great to hear all your news. Thank you for your postcards, please keep sending them. I know some of you have been writing fantastic book reviews all on your own – amazing, well done! I do miss seeing you all, hopefully we will see you again very soon.
