Dear Bonsai

It seems ages since I last wrote to you. How are you all? I expect you are enjoying being able to see a few more people. I know my sons are!

We had a birthday in our house this week. Our cat Maisy was 6. She had a new scratching post! She continues to love having more people home than usual during the day. She has also got too used to long lie ins in the morning and is becoming very lazy!

I am still busy in the garden, I finished planting all the bedding plants on Sunday and then my dad come with 3 more trays of plants he had grown for me! Hopefully I will be able to pop them in at the weekend when the weather is better.

That's all I have to say for now, take care and look after yourselves. Love from Mrs Clark x
