

Postcard from my teacher

Dear Bonsai,

Hello again, how are you all coping with this extraordinary heat wave?? It's just been incredible and I'm not afraid to admit it's even too hot for me! I used to live in Italy, and then in Spain so you'd think I was used to these types of temperatures but I've had to resort to drinking lots of water (and eating lots of ice cream) to cool down.

We've also had to think about when best to walk our dog as the pavements are getting very hot during the day, even if she 'asks' us to go out we're keeping her walks to early morning and evening time to protect her paws.

Thank you again to those who have been sending me their work to see. It's a great habit to get into so that when you do all return to school it will feel normal to be doing school work.

And it would be great to see the Doodle maths usage on the increase please 😊

Hope you all have a lovely weekend, and I'll write again soon.
