

Postcard from my teacher

Dear Chestnut,

How are you all? Thank you so much to everyone who has sent in work. I am always delighted to see what you have done. I read a fantastic explanation text about gymnastics which taught me lots of things I didn't know before! I was excited to see images of your rainbow experiments and thrilled to see many of you are working hard on your maths and English activities. Well done, Chestnut! My week has been full of playing in the garden and reading books to my son, Alex. We had a particularly exciting day on Sunday when we were able to pop round to see Alex's grandparents and have lunch in their garden. Alex ate all of the strawberries! I really must teach him to share. Take care and I will write again soon.
