| Links to the school/area       | As a former student of Datchet St Mary's, I am personally close with school's ethos, culture and commitment to academic excellence. Although I now live in London, I often come back to see my family in Datchet - so if you see me around town, feel free to say hi!                                                                                                      |
| Why did you become a governor? | I am excited to bring a different perspective to the governing body at a school that remains close to my heart and laid the foundation of my own education journey culminating at Oxford University. I look forward to helping improve the school's performance against it's aims and give back to a community of students, parents and teachers that is close to my home. |
